Foreword

IN the presentation of the twelfth volume of "The Quill", we, the class of 1929, feel that a great privilege has been ours.

We deem it such since the school year of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight and nineteen hundred and twenty-nine marks a new era in the scholastic history of Marion High.

With the installation of Delta Sigma Delta Chapter of the National Honorary Society for High Schools, we have taken that for which it stands as our goal of effort in the preparation of this volume. We trust that "The Quill" will give evidence of "Scholarship" linked with "Character" striving to give "Service" as it wings its way into the future.

Class History

By special permission of the U. S. Literary Society to the Quill

March 11, 1956.

THE following historical facts were found in a diary written by the late Alexander Gustavus Piklewart of Waubeek, Iowa, and former citizen of Marion, Iowa. Mr. Piklewart was well known all over the United States for his writings on "Traffic Regulations for Airplanes" and "How to Boil Water Without Burning It."

We are especially proud of Mr. Picklewart's contribution to his country's cause because he was educated in the Marion Schools and graduated from Marion High School in 1929. The following sketch from his diary will interest many of his friends who graduated with him.

As I sat before the fireplace last evening, dreaming of the days of yesterday, I recalled vividly my school days, "Readin', and 'ritin', and 'rithmetic days." How clearly that day came back to me when I, with my pals started out on the quest of knowledge.

It was a beautiful autumn day, when hand in hand, my classmates and I started out to our respective schools to learn something of life and its meaning. The years passed slowly and one day found us no longer in the grades but pupils of the Lincoln Junior High School. We were guided through these two years by Yachik, Roberts, Steen, Burns, Mills, Rock, and Finger. We owe many thanks to these instructors for their patience and work in teaching us.

One of our most dreaded moments came when we left Junior High to become members of a higher organization. Then we started to High School.

Freshies! How important seemed that title. As I close my eyes I can picture clearly the huddled group on the steps in front of the massive building in which our school life was to be completed.

When the gong sounded, we grew bold enough to enter the building where we received our classification cards. Then came the grand scramble to find our designated class rooms.

After the first few days of High School we were initiated. When the Freshmen girls came to school dressed in house aprons worn backward and hose of two different colors, they looked like a variety of baseball teams, the white sox included. As for the boys, a severe whipping and bath in the horse tank in the city park constituted initiation enough.

We soon became accustomed to the High School routine and were put to work. Miss Shirer tried to make us realize the importance of correct grammar and Miss Hoskins impressed thoroughly upon our minds the significance of algebra.

Then came election day. All Freshies rushed to the polls to cast their votes and as a result the following officers were elected: President, Ruth Crew; Vice-President, Lawrence Woodruff; Secretary and Treasurer, Lawrence Peterson.

Not only were we allowed to study but we were permitted to have and attend a few social activities. The Girl Reserves held a Weiner Roast at Schaffer's Park and the new girls were so impressed that many of them joined the organization. The first all-Freshmen event was a Weiner Roast at Thomas Park. It rained! It poured! We rented canoes and sailed down Indian Creek and ate until our hearts and stomachs were content. In the season of spooks and witches, the class gave a Hallowe'en party in the old gym.

The class carried off first honors in the home Declamatory contest, Floyd Kahler winning first place in the humorous division. Others of the class also took part and won honorable mention. Many of the boys also entered athletics that first year.

On St. Patrick's day the Fitzpatrick's and O'Haras held a grand celebration in the old gym and everyone agreed that it was a good Irish party. We shall never forget Irving Finger as Father Fitzpatrick.

Two of our dear classmates were taken from us during the latter part of the year, Bernice Andrews and Herman Massengale.

We were rewarded for our hard work and good behavior by a three months vacation.

We returned to M. H. S. the following September as Sophomores. We settled down for a few weeks and Mr. Dole and Miss Hoskins stressed the fact that all sides of an isosceles triangle are equal. We couldn't see of what importance such triangles were so we put away our Geometry books along with the others and started out to get a high school education.

Our class officers for the year were: Loyd Coakley, President; Joseph Biggs, Vice-President; Herbert Conger, Secretary and Treasurer.

In the annual Declamatory contest we were well represented. Catherine Wiley won first place in the humorous division, Geraldine Slauson, second. Mary E. Erwin won second place in the dramatic division. Our representatives in athletics that year were: Austin Case, who shot a mean game of basketball and Joe Biggs and Bob O'Leary who won a few honors in track.

We by no means neglected our social affairs during such a busy round of school life and we make up for lost time at our annual Hallowe'en party held at the County Home. The whole class turned out and also many outsiders. The party was a huge success and all reached home safely. We also had a Weiner Roast at Shaffer's Park and that brought our social affairs to an end for that year.

Then came the climax of the year. Semester Exams! Then a three months vacation.

When we returned to school as Juniors our number had been increased by many outsiders, putting our class among the larger classes. We planned to make things go off with a whizz and a bang during our third year and we did! We started the ball rolling by initiating the Freshies. Then the Girl Reserves held a Treasure Hunt and picnic at Alt's.

At our first class meeting we elected our class officers: Joseph Biggs, President; Mary E. Erwin, Vice-President; Bernice Kindig, Secretary; Lawrence Peterson, Treasurer.

Some of the more thoughtful members of the class looked into the future and saw that unless they made a grade or two they would stay on in High School indefinitely, so they settled down to make a few grades. The rest waited for something exciting to happen.

The unexpected happened! A Hallowe'en party at Margaret Schneider's. Some of the class never will forget the ride through the cemetery after the party.

About that time Everett Cortwright suggested that we do something to prove our ability and we surely proved it in "Seventeen." The play was a scream and all M. H. S. sat up and took notice of our talent. The leading parts were taken by Herbert Conger, as Willie Baxter; Geraldine Slauson, as Lola Pratt, the baby-talk-lady; and Bernice Kindig, as the kid sister. Other members of the class who took part were: Austin Case, Mary E. Erwin, Joseph Biggs, Ruth Crew, Gail Stork, Louis Mohr, Loyd Coakley, Leonard Brenneman, Margaret Schneider, Jack Blessing, and Dorothy Johnson. The play was a real success and well received. Much credit belonged to Mr. E. S. Cortwright and Miss Christie Tollefson who were directors of the play.

Catherine Wiley and Lucille Huss carried off first honors in the humorous and dramatic divisions at the home Declamatory contest. In athletics Peterson, O'Leary, Turner, Brenneman, and Coakley played a good game of football. At the annual football banquet, Dale Peterson was elected honorable captain for 1929. Case was high point man for the Juniors in basketball that year.

Among the other events which took place during the year were: "The Lass of Limerick Town" directed by Miss Jaycox; Mother and Daughter Banquet; and many parties sponsored by the G. A. A. and the G. R.'s.

We brought our Junior year to a close by giving a banquet in honor of the Seniors in the M. E. Church. The banquet was in the form of a Barney Google affair and all the Nanny-goats and Brother Billy goats were there. Joe Biggs presided as honorable toastmaster, Exalted Angora, and he carried off the program with a bang. After the program we went to the new gym where we were presented Barney Google caps and danced and played bunco until the clock struck eleven.

When school opened in September we were honored as Seniors. It was a very different story than it was when we first entered. We all realized that our High School days would soon be over and we would part and go our ways.

At our first class meeting we elected class officers: Dale Peterson, President; Jack Blessing, Vice-President; Iva Stevens, Secretary; Lawrence Peterson, Treasurer.

Early in the fall the class gave a Weiner Roast at Schaffer's Park. Very few turned out but those who did certainly enjoyed themselves.

At a second class meeting we chose our class motto, "Success Wait's at Labor's Gate," our class flower, "Columbia Rose," our class colors, "Pink and Silver." The question then came up of caps and gowns for graduation, but it was voted down by a large majority. The class rings were chosen and we got them shortly after Thanksgiving. Several other class meetings were held throughout the year.

The Quill Staff, which had been chosen at the end of our Junior year, worked hard and tried to raise some money to help its cause along by giving two motion pictures, "Peter Pan" and "Dress Parade."

We were represented in football this last year by O'Leary, Coakley, Peterson, Reed, Brenneman, and Beach; in basketball by Case, Beach, and Stork.

In Declamatory work, Catherine Wiley again carried off first place in the humorous division and Lucile Huss first place in the oratorical division.

The sixth of February brought with it the Senior Class party held at the home of Marjorie Frink. Billy Murray's orchestra furnished music for dancing. 500 and bridge were played. Everyone agreed that it was one of our nicest parties. Miss Yates, Mrs. Bragg, and Mrs. Wolfe chaperoned the party.

Several other banquets and parties took place during the latter part of the year, the most important being the Junior and Senior banquet.

During the last few weeks of school the Seniors put on a play, there was the Baccalaureate Sermon, the Class Day Exercises, the Commencement Address, and the Alumni banquet.

And so our High School days ended. We hated to leave our dear school but we have never forgotten and never shall forget dear old Marion High.

GERALDINE SLAUSON.

Class Poem

The wide door of the future is open
And closed is the door of the past,
For the beckoning future we're eager
But our love for our High School will last.

'Twas but four years ago we were Freshmen,
How quickly those four years have flown;
We are now at the gate of life's highway
To start on our journey unknown.

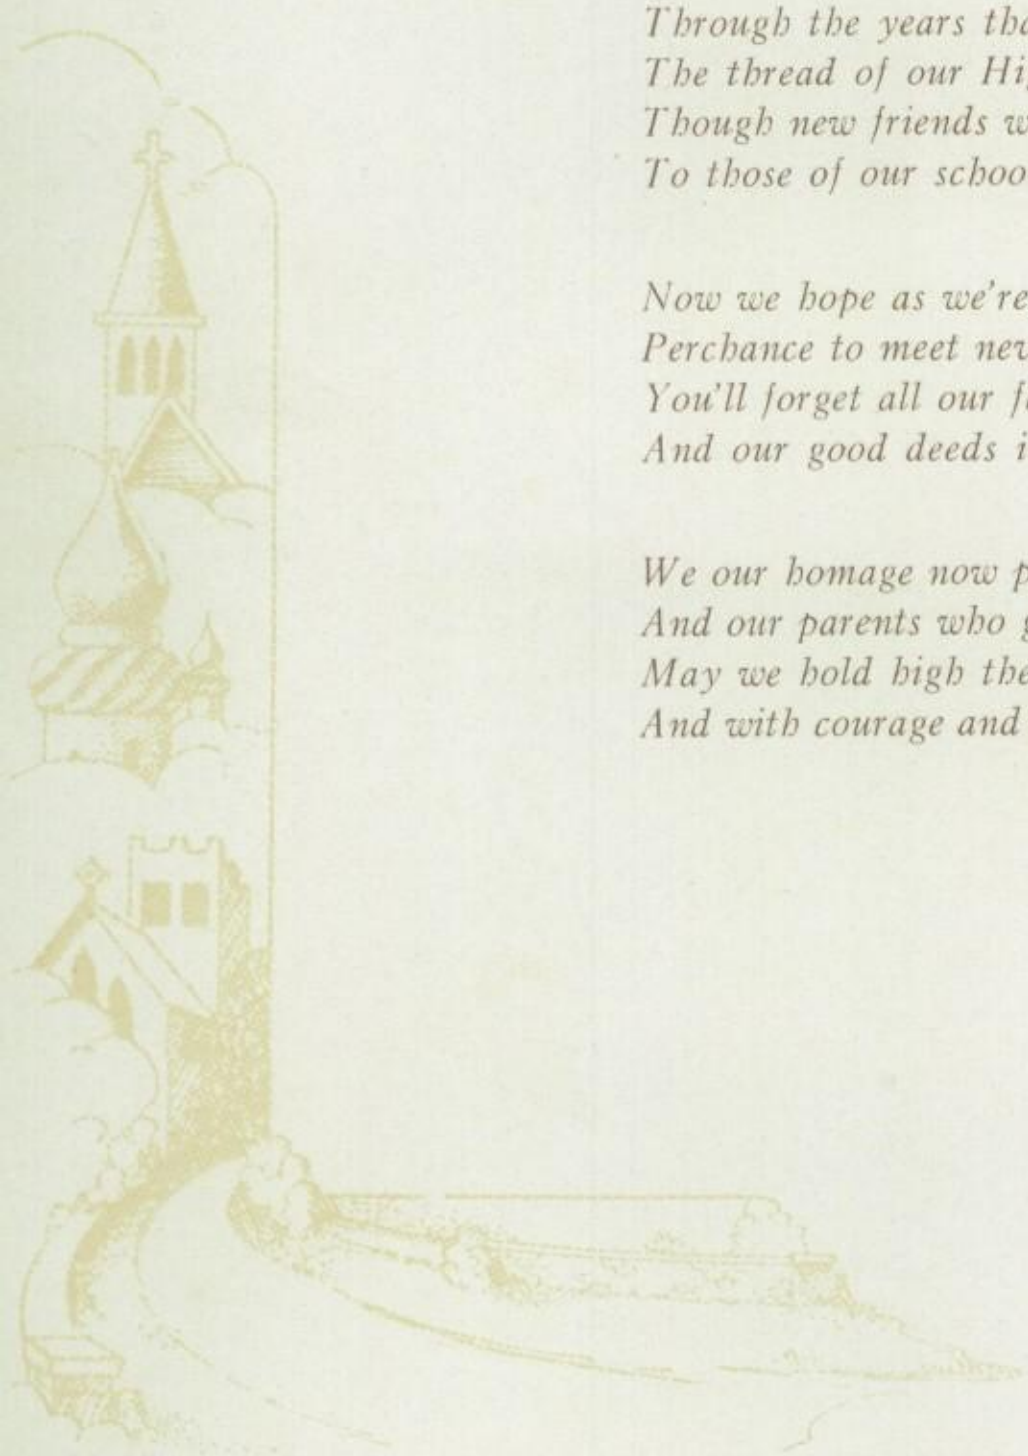
The years that are spread out before us
With their joys and their sorrows we know,
For the joys of the school days we're leaving
Will carry an unending glow.

Through the years that the future holds ready
The thread of our High School will weave,
Though new friends we shall meet by the roadside,
To those of our school life we'll cleave.

Now we hope as we're nearing the parting
Perchance to meet never again,
You'll forget all our faults and our failings
And our good deeds in memory retain.

We our homage now pay to our teachers
And our parents who gave of their best;
May we hold high the banner they've flung us
And with courage and faith meet life's test.

HAZEL SCHULTZ.



Class Song

TUNE: "MEM'RIES"

VERSE I

Tonight our school days are over,
And we'll now say adieu;
We love the school we're leaving
And all our teachers we'll miss, too,
And now that the time has come
To say good bye to you
We'll say we're feeling rather blue
But we'll to you, be true.

REFRAIN

Mem'ries, mem'ries,
Mem'ries of you, dear school.
We love you so,
Friends we've made dear,
Throughout the years,
Our mem'ries come and go,
We're leaving schoolmates and teachers
Who've helped us through these years,
We'll say "farewell" to you now forever,
Dear old "Mar-ion Hi."

VERSE II

Though years may pass
And mem'ries fade,
Though far away are friends,
Our love for dear old M. H. S.
We know will never end.
We'll live again in memory's dream
Where we had fun and more
For, four short years we've had our say
And now our school life's o'er.

An Epigramatic Characterization of the Modern Macbeth

The renowned Macbeth of Shakespearean fame
Cared more for power than for name
When obstacles his path did fill
He struck them down. The lucky pill!!
Today's Macbeth cares naught for power
Nor other petals of Knighthood's flower
He more desires such trivial stuff
As flappers, flasks, and lots of bluff.
"For bluff," he says, "Will get you thru'
If you but know just what to do."
In school he pulls the grades so high
And is known far and wide as the "getter by".
The modern too his Duncan has
The purest gem in friendship's paths
His reputation, lost the first by bluffing
Try unquenched thirst.
His self respect he loses next
And tho' his Banquo represents.
His mind and intellectual self
Are all the family of Macduff.
Destroyed by bluff's mean ravagings.
Which give not, yet take everything
So friends beware of those who say
That bluffing is the only way
And those who say they do admire
The one who gives that trait full fire.
For he at first may seem to gain
But finds at last his work's in vain
He's lost the stepping stones of life
Macbeth, the stepping stones to height.

MARION High School was given a chapter in the National Honor Society this year. This is a scholastic fraternity sponsored by the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association. At present there are eight hundred twenty-nine other chapters among the larger high schools of the country.

Election to membership in the society is based upon scholarship, character, leadership, and service. It is the highest honor that can come to a high school student. The emblem is recognized on the campus of any university as a distinct mark of ability.

Meetings are held each month, during which programs are given by the students. Songs, plays, and games of Latin origin are used to create a more definite interest in the work.

The club has been organized only two years in its present form but, under the direction of Miss Schomberg, has created a great deal of interest among the Latin students.

Girl Reserve

THE Girl Reserve program has been carried out in a different fashion this year than ever before. It has been carried out in the form of a cruise with the officers taking the part of the pirates and the advisers the part of the ship-council. Each month's program represented a different point of the voyage and a great deal of interest has been created in the Girl Reserve Organization.

The purpose of the organization is to create a spirit of friendliness among the students, to serve the community in every way possible, and to promote the upholding of a high moral standard in the High School student body.

Other activities which have been sponsored by the Girl Reserves this year are: the distributing of food on Thanksgiving Day, a Christmas party for the poor children, taking charge of devotions at Assembly, the Dad-Daughter Banquet, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

The Alumni Association

THE first class to graduate from Marion High School was in 1872, fifty-seven years ago. There were three girls in this class, only one of which is living, Ella V. Williams of Tacoma, Washington.

With the class of 1873, were thirteen graduates, the survivors being William Winsor, Mrs. Mary E. Nield, Edward Jones, and Anna Ovington.

Due to a change in the length of periods of the classes, there were no classes graduated in 1874 and 1876. In 1875 there were twelve graduates, six of which are living: James Robinson, Ida Kemp Lillie, Ella Mitchell Reinheimer, and Elza Mentzer of Marion; Lee Carson of Tama, Iowa, and Mahola Bloom Jones of Shenandoah, Iowa.

All graduation exercises were held in the old Methodist Church at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Sixth Avenue until it was moved, and then they were held in the High School Auditorium.

The Superintendents that have served for Marion High School are as follows:

J. W. McClellan	1869-1881

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLAY

CELIA Faraday is tired of being looked upon as old and dowdy and dull. She has had (figuratively speaking) to wear "green stockings" at the wedding of two other sisters, Madge and Evelyn, and now comes Phyllis' engagement to Robert Tarver. She immediately invents a rather ingenious story of her engagement to a young English army officer, "Colonel John Smith," who is away fighting in Somaliland. Very grave complications follow when a young army officer by the name of John Smith does appear and plays the game which Celia started, to a finish.

SCENES

Scene: The living room of the Heller Apartment.

THE Hellers are a typical American family. In their home we see Annabelle practicing on the tiny piano, Willie making alibis for not going to work, father coming home tired out, and mother bossing everyone. When Louise, the eldest daughter, announces at dinner that she is to have a young man caller that evening, a sensation is created. Although Louise was "twenty-one last March" she hasn't "landed a husband" yet. Mother's fondest hope is to get her daughter married happily, so she does everything to put her best foot out and to make an impression.

Charles Grant comes and after embarrassed introductions all around he is left with Louise. They are in love and before the evening is over they are engaged. But, from mother's bluffs—telling Charles that one hundred dollars a week is not enough for a girl like Louise to live on, and telling the neighbors that Louise has "landed a big banker"—serious complications arise. However, father takes a hand and everything comes out all right.

ATHLETICS: "Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."—Hebrews 12:1.

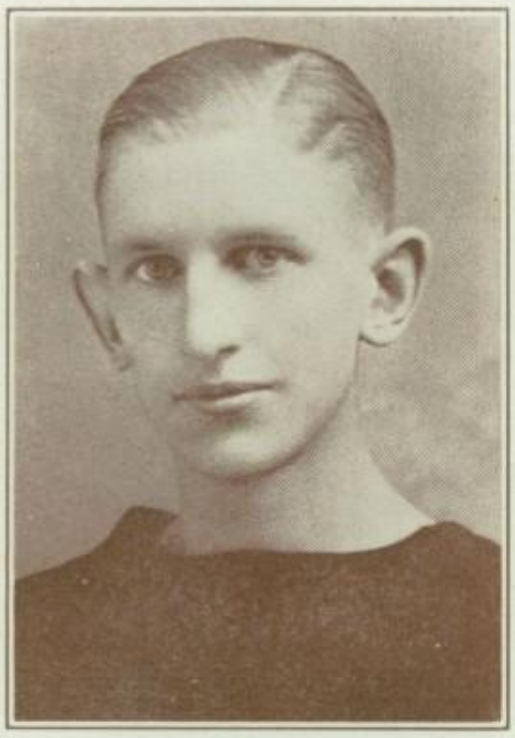
Wolfe

MR. Wolfe, the Head Coach, is the most energetic person connected with the athletic teams, always ready to co-operate with anyone who is willing to do the same. He works incessantly to develop a spirit of sportsmanship and to make the team from Marion High a winning team. He is both a mental and physical doctor to the fellows, and their appreciation for his interest and helpfulness expresses itself in their admiration and respect for him.

ROEDER, BASEBALL COACH

HE is not talkative but he has a splendid means of getting things across to his charges. During the football season he worked constantly, being of valuable assistance to Coach Wolfe. He inspired confidence by his straightforward, sincere manner, which should put Marion High well on the road towards a successful baseball season.

Roeder



Case

AUSTIN CASE, BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

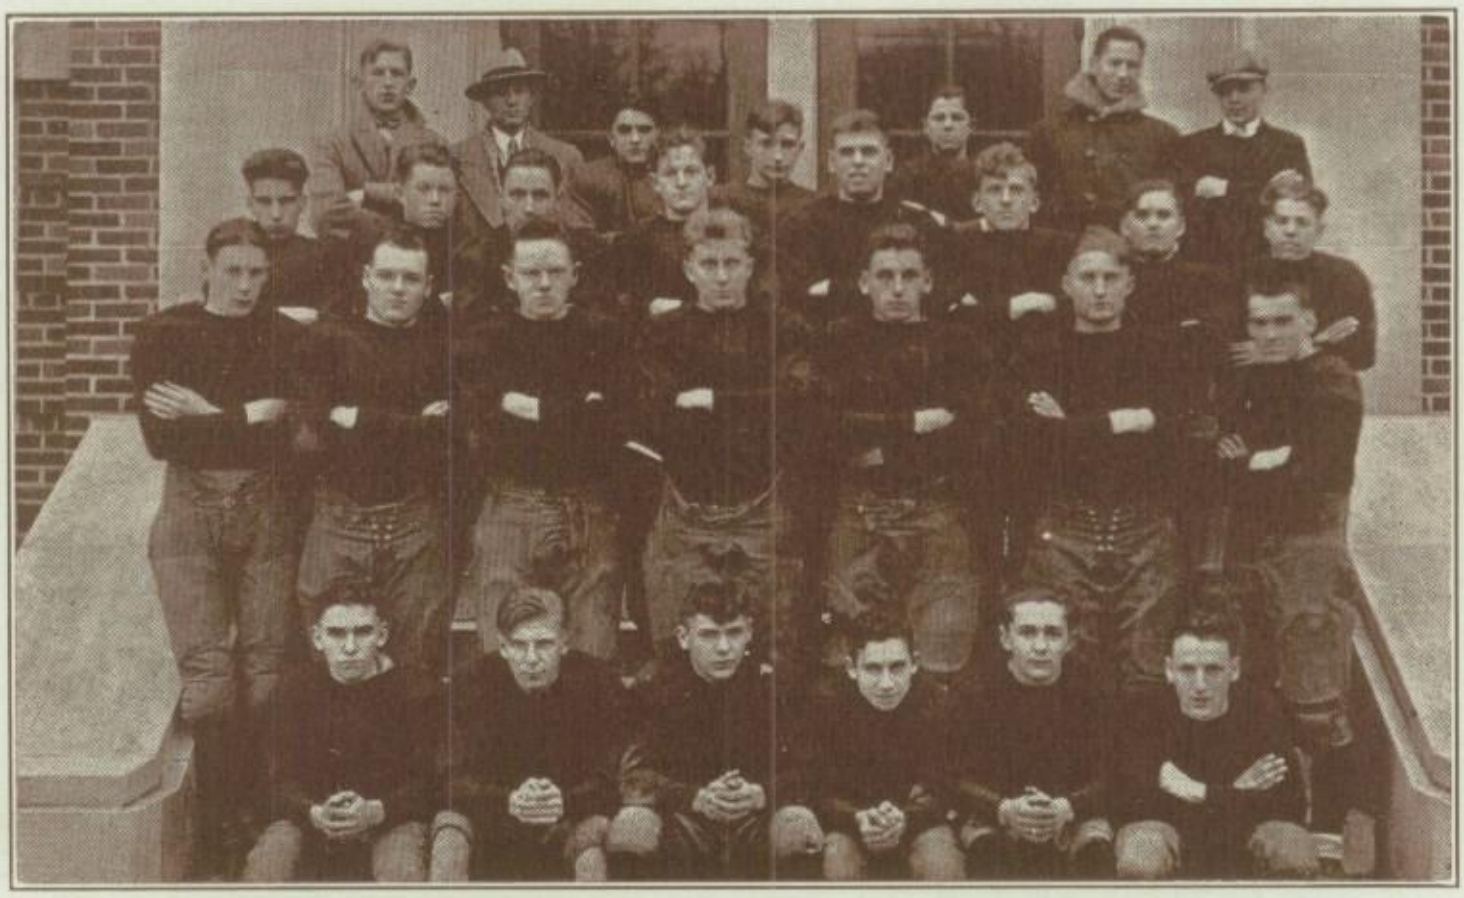
DUE to an injury received before the first game our basketball captain and star was out of most of the games in the first part of the season. Even though he was forced out of active play, he helped keep up the spirit of the team by acting like a true sportsman. When he did get a chance to play in the latter part of the season he proved his exceptional ability to the complete satisfaction of all.

DALE PETERSON, FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

PETE'S sole interest in football was the team. He would take no praise for the good plays but he took the blame on himself for the bad ones. In every game he showed his grit and ability by being in the thick of the fight even though everything was against him. His cheerful disposition and his encouragement to others made him the friend of every man on the team.

Peterson

Football



THE football season of Marion High School opened with about fifty men reporting for work outs. Letter men reporting were: Turner, O'Leary, Taylor, Neff, and Peterson. Marion was not able to break into the winning column, in spite of many desparate attempts. It was not because of poor material, but because the team lacked the scoring punch.

There was a vast improvement toward the end of the season. The Red and Gold ending the season with a victory over our old "Turkey Day" rival, Anamosa, a team that previously suffered no defeats.

Much of the credit due the team was the result of work and time put in by Coaches Wolfe and Roeder. This is Coach Wolfe's first year here and it was difficult to get the season under way.

NEXT YEAR'S TEAM

The prospect for a winning team next year is bright. Letter men returning will be: Co-Captains C. Neff and Taylor, E. Neff, Breed, Reynolds, Callahan, Castle, Katz, Beach, Arp, Pinch. With such fine material, Marion should boast a crack football team in 1929.

Basketball

AFTER the football season ended Coach Wolfe called out the basketball men. About forty candidates reported for the first practice. After one week of practice the squad was cut down to fifteen men. Coach Wolfe had a hard time finding a team that he could depend upon in preparing for the Alumni game on December twenty-first. Coach Wolfe had the squad practice during the Christmas holidays. They drilled mostly on fundamentals and basket shooting. During practice Case injured his knee which kept him out of the game the first part of the season. Later in the season Curtis suffered an infection which kept him out of the Grant game there.

As a result of Coach Wolfe's putting his men through hard practices, Marion developed one of the strongest defenses in this part of the state. The one thing that kept Marion from winning more games was the fact that no one man was consistent in hitting the hoop. E. Neff was high point man for the season. Marion High is losing three letter men this year. They are Beach, Storck, and Case.

After the season was over the letter men called a meeting and elected Case captain for the season.

PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR

Next year Marion High School should have one of the strongest teams in its history. All of the men back next year have had one or two years of experience. They are E. Neff, Castle, Curtis, Callahan, Taylor, and Slauson.

The New Track

THE 1928 track squad sacrificed their possibilities as a track team and devoted their time to the construction of a quarter mile cinder track.

Coach "Eddie" Hines suggested the track to the boys and they were interested enough to investigate. When they found that if they would furnish the labor the school would pay for the material they at once elected to build the track.

The interest of the school was shown by the fact that many boys who were not out for track put in many arduous hours laboring with the track team.

This new track should stimulate a greater interest in this sport than ever before.

ANAMOSA MEET

On April 27 Marion entered the annual triangular meet held at Anamosa. Teams entered were Anamosa, University High Iowa City, and Marion. Marion fared very well, considering the fact the men devoted their time to the construction of the new track, instead of training for the meet. We tied Anamosa for second place, scoring 40½ points.

Men who placed in this meet were:

C. Neff, Shot Putt.....1st
C. Neff, Discus.....2nd
Paul Beach, Mile.....2nd
A. Flickinger, ½ Mile.....2nd
R. Petersen, ¼ Mile.....1st
E. Neff, 220 Dash.....2nd
E. Beiber, 220 Dash.....3rd
J. Biggs, 220 Dash.....4th
J. Biggs, 50 Dash.....3rd
D. Peterson, High Jump.....2nd
D. Peterson, Pole Vault.....3rd
E. Neff, E. Beiber, J. Biggs and R. O'Leary, ½ Mile Relay.....3rd

THE IOWA CITY MEET

On February 22, Eddie Hines took several of the boys to Iowa City to an interscholastic meet. It was a very important meet and representatives were there from many schools outside the state. Competition was very keen in the mile medley, our boys receiving fifth place. Following are the names of the boys on the mile medley team and the distances they ran: Vernon Stevens, 1-3 mile; Archie Reinheimer, ½ mile; Bob O'Leary, ½ mile; George Merkel, ½ mile.

Archie Reinheimer and Robert O'Leary placed in the preliminaries but were eliminated in the semi-finals.

Girls Athletic Association

Crew, Koppenhaver, Kindig, Tudeen

THE purpose of the Girls Athletic Association is to create interest and enthusiasm in all types of athletics. This association sponsors parties, hikes, and extra-curricular activities. By making class teams, doing stunts, hiking, and so forth, the girls win points which entitle them to awards. This year nine girls received numerals, six received letters, four received sweaters, and one a blanket. The additional awards will be received at the Athletic Banqut this spring.

VOLLEY BALL

Volley ball, our fall sport, was received with great enthusiasm. There was a splendid representation from each class. After several weeks of practice, class teams were chosen which represented their class in a Round Robin Tournament. Keen competition was displayed in the final game between the Juniors and Seniors in which the Seniors excelled.

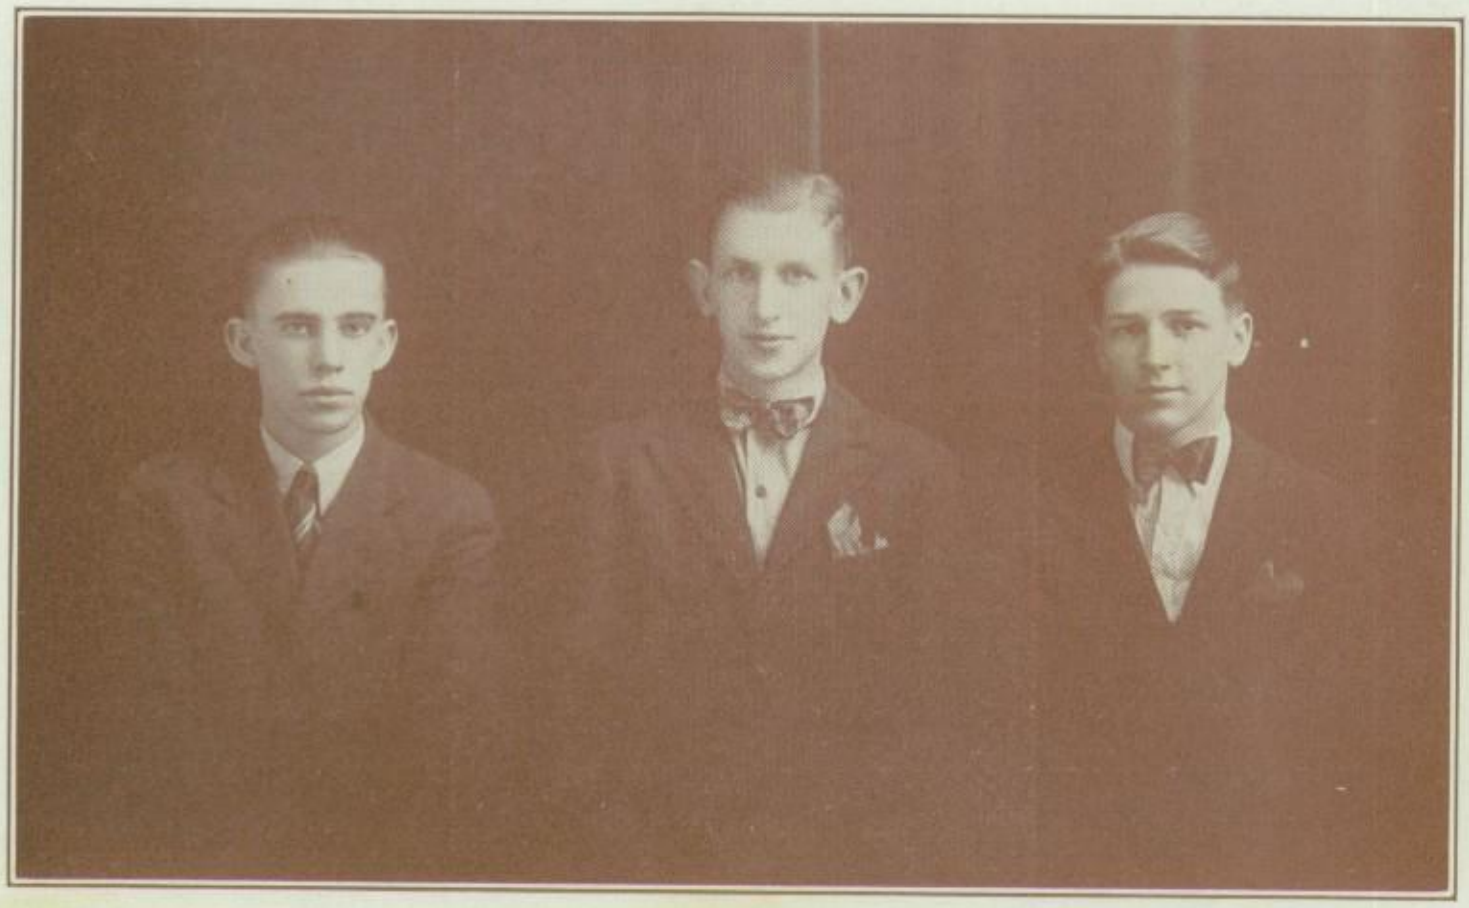
BASKETBALL

Basketball is the favorite sport and attracted a great number of girls. The semi-finals were played in a curtain raiser at the Anamosa-Marion game. The Seniors defeated the Freshmen and the Juniors were victors in the Freshman-Junior game. In the final game between Juniors and Seniors, the Seniors won by a score of 14-4.

Senior Team: Catherine Wiley (Captain), Ruth Crew, Bernice Kindig, Dorothy Schultz, Della Koppenhaver, Bertha Tudeen, Lucille Huss, Leone Neill.

Junior Team: Florence Holsinger (Captain), Verna Hanscom, Florence Hoisington, Norma Fitzgerald, Mildred Sidlinger, Frances Dickey, Leona Merkel, Ruth Neill.

MANAGERS



Baseball

THE second baseball season at Marion High School was started with forty-five reporting for practise under the coaching of Supt. C. B. Vernon and Captain Fred Rasmussen. Three letter men returned for practise, these being Captain Rasmussen, catcher; Petrusch, first baseman; and Postel, pitcher. Biggs, third baseman, was unable to report because of illness. A rather successful season was accomplished, Marion winning four of the ten games played, including the tournament. Marion outscored their opponents in total number of scores, sixty-one to forty-eight. The feature of the season was the no-hit, no-run game pitched by Postel in the tournament game with Monticello.

Class Will

WE, the class of '29, about to leave this high school life, being of sound and disposing mind and in our usual good health, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. Having now passed through a period of questionable manifestation of knowledge we wish to dispose of the following personal property:

Leonard Brenneman—My data on sleeping sickness, which I know to be accurate, to Freddie Katz who needs some experience on "Good Looks While Sleeping."

Jack Blessing—My cute little lithp to Milth Thidlinger who hath possibilities along that line.

Joe Biggs—My red hair to Margaret Fernow. It will go so well with her pink cheeks.

Walter Bensch—My little shaving mug and razor to Tommie Lawson whose old one is worn out from constant use.

Gladys Beiber—My legs to the Blue Jay Company who constantly want new and better advertisements for "Famous Feet."

Luther Crow—My willowy figure to Hobart Gibson. He needs one.

Ruth Crew—My heart and hand to any boy in M. H. S. who wants it but don't all speak at once.

Julia Crew—My collection of True Story magazines to my sister and I hope she has better success than I did.

Opal Cherry—My cute ways of dressing to Anna Henry.

Lloyd Coakley—My fondness for slow motion to the Mack Sennett Comedy Concern.

Austin Case—I would leave my "Bump" but I need something to distinguish myself.

Louise Carpenter—I regretfully leave my boy friends so that some of the rest of the girls will now have a chance.

Bernard Dolan—My mental ability to Brother Stuart.

Mary Erwin—My formula for "henna rinse" to Catherine Cooper.

Marjorie Frink—The elevated position of my chin to anyone who thinks he possesses self-confidence enough to keep it there.

Gaylord French—My "antique" to Leroy Smith and the Neff Brothers. I know they'll appreciate her.

Emery Freeman—My effeminate style of beauty to Rasty Reynolds.

Laura Frazee—My rustic ideas to Harriet Leasure who is fast becoming too sophisticated for her residential location.

David Grommen—My dashing ways to Leonard Burrows.

Emilie Griffin—The dimple in my chin to Mr. Wolfe who sadly needs it.

John Gatewood—My speediness in getting through High School to Billie Murray.

Lucille Huss—I would will my perpetual grin to Gwen Newlin but I think Donald wants me to keep it.

Marion Holdorf—My latest book taken from personal experiences "How to Get and Tame a Man" to Ruth Neill who is getting anxious.

Charles Hanna—My cute little turned-up nose to Grace Boyd who feels it will help her win renown.

Jeane Jess—My motto "The Truth and Nothing but the Truth" to Nat or Verna Hanscom but don't fight over it.

Floyd Kahler—I leave half of my brains to the faculty that they may be more able to answer bright pupils' questions.

Bernice Kindig—My latest book on the Steam Process to girls such as Annie Laura Davidson who despairs of keeping her hair in curl.

Della Koppenhaver—My ability at running for office to Arline Strickell who has high aspirations of becoming first woman U. S. president.

Roy Kullander—The holes in my socks to the Holland Home Bakery for their doughnuts.

Clarabelle Rasmussen—My strong little voice to Eleanor Storck.

Eddie Reed—My pack of camels to anyone needing a hump.

Wilma Reep—Hello folks! Someone else can have my place in M. H. S. at last.

Donald Roberts—My "maidenly blush" to bashful little Frances Dickey.

Hazel Schultz—My Kissproof vanity set to Ilo Bear so that hers will have a chance to cool.

Dorothy Schultz—My laugh to Florence Holsinger who though taking elocution in Paris cannot acquire a satisfactory one.

Geraldine Slauson—My place before the mirror to Ethel McDonnell who usually get it anyway.

Flora Sprague—My boisterous manner to the shy little miss, Isobel Darr.

June Standish—My pulchritudiousness of hair to anyone who knows what I mean.

Richard Starry—My freckles to Florence Hoisington because hers are "fading fast away."

Iva Stevens—Who ever heard of a Scotchman giving anything away?

Gail Storck—As population increases and I need an assistant I wish to will my abilities as the fleet winged carrier to my sister.

Marjorie Swan—My attitude of importance to Ray Snyder.

Bertha Tudeen—My good sportsmanship (ahem!) to Bernice Reynolds.

Harold Taylor—My large figure to my small brother whom I have made under nourished by my desire to eat more.

Marian Van Fossen—My expression "going right home after school" to anyone who inherits my weakness.

Catherine Wiley—My car to Nat Hanscom, who already claims half of it, provided she promises not to begin the practice of overloading it.

Irma Langhoff—The Senior Class wills her to Killians as a model.

Mildred Little—My curly locks to Miss Knight who finds it necessary to get a weekly permanent.

Leta Rose Lines—My boyish bob to Aolabelle Mentzer.

Georgena Marak—My palmolive complexion to Mr. Dietrick that he may be better able to "keep that school girl complexion."

Hazel Merrill—My long raven (?) tresses to Dorothy Bear whose hair Dorothy Schultz cut off in third hour study hall.

Mary Michel—My "sax" to Avalda Willis who wore hers out playing in so many Jazz orchestras.

Ruth Miller—Beauty and Brains don't go together so I willingly part with my brains to Helen Burt.

Louis Mohr—My unsuccessful suit of Marjorie Swan to Earl Fredericks who paddles the same canoe.

Leone Niell—My stubborness to Mary Fernow who is becoming too docile to live with.

Robert O'Leary—I can't part with my desire to become a prima donna. I've already applied for the Girls' Glee Club.

Millard Port—I won't leave anything but will exchange my Rattles Royce for Bill Murray's Rolls Rough.

Mildred Peterson—My Name and Fame to the other Mildred Peterson.

Lawrence Peterson—My Apollianic features to George Marak the "shriek" of Marion Hi.

Robert Peterson—My high coloring to Bernita May to save her the price of rouge.

Dale Peterson—My captaincy to either one of the little Fernow boys who both aspire to being a second Red Grange.

Marion Patten—My red, plaid sweater to anyone who may enter Marion Hi as a stranger and need a distinguishing feature.

Mildred Woolridge—My "specs" to Francis Taylor as even he may find it hard to see through Mr. Finger's jokes.

We hereby appoint Una Vent, ever present in our school, as executrix of this, our last will and testament.

Sir Samuel saw sweet Sarah Samson swimming. Suddenly she seemed sinking. Sir Samuel stood stunned. Striding seaward spurning shingle, Sir Samuel swiftly swam Sarah-wards. Sir Samuel skillfully supported swooning Sarah. Swimming shore-wards, Sir Samuel successfully succored Sarah. Seeming somewhat shaky, Sir Samuel sampled some spirits—Special Scotch.

Sarah saw Samuel's self-sacrificing spirit; Sir Samuel saw Sarah's sweetness. Sir Samuel soon sought Sarah. Striding slowly, Sarah sighed softly. Sir Samuel seemed speechless.

"Say something, Sir Samuel," said Sarah. "Say Sam, Sarah," said Sir Samuel. Sarah smiling shyly, softly said, "Sam." "Sarah-Sallie," said Sir Samuel, "Sweet Sarah—sweetheart." Sarah solemnly surrendered.—Swiped.

THE STORE FOR YOUNG MEN ON FIRST AVENUE

She was a damsel fair to see;
A gallant bachelor was he;
He offered her on bended knee
One heart.

A richer rival came in view;
Of maids he'd learned a thing or two;
He flashed before her eyes of blue
Two diamonds.

They married. Next a change of scene;
His love became a mere "has been."
He spent his time, he said, between
Three clubs.

And so this once too-pampered bride
Forlorn, neglected, pined and died—
A quartet of grave diggers plied
Four spades.

The moral is: Don't wed for gold,
A marriage bought's a marriage sold,
A loveless match is proved to hold
No trump.

A RECENT cleaning of the Physics room disclosed a late invention of the eminent physicists, Floyd Kahler and Lawrence Peterson. It proved to be a radio attachment for disclosing the future which I fitted on my radio at home. Turning the dial to M. H. S. on a 1929 wave length, what did I hear but the illustrious future of our own mediocre selves.

FRESHMAN CLASS SONG

They took the Freshman up on the roof,
And they pushed him off of there.
Two hundred feet he fell unharmed,
His head was full of air.

They fed the Freshman acid,
They poured it down his face,
He neutralized it to a salt,
The villian was so base.

Oh, they tried to drown him in a tu'
But he survived of the plunge,
Hail to the man of "32"
In his head he had a sponge.

Whether it be high school sports, the affairs of the community in which you live, the affairs of the nation or of the world—reliance upon your daily newspaper is well placed, for it, alone, brings the living, pulsating news of life as it is being lived.

As you start upon the commencement of your active business life, carry with you the fact that the best informed is the most successful, and that the best of information is gleaned from the daily news report of the activities of the world in which you live.

That service reaches a commendable peak in the newspaper of your own community.

A small boy found in his grammar examination, "The horse and cow is in the field." He was told to correct it and to give his reason.

He wrote: "The cow and the horse is in the field. Ladies should come first."

"My boy, you must not say 'I ain't going.' You should say, 'I am not going. He is not going. We are not going. They are not going'."

"Ain't anybody going?"

Friends, Students and Janitors, lend us your ears—
We come to slam the teachers, not to praise them.
If there's good it be oft' interred in their bones,
So let it be with them.
The noble Superintendent hath told us teachers were ambitious.
If it were so it were a grievous fault and grievously hath the teachers proved it.
Here under leave of the Superintendent and the rest,
For the Superintendent is an honorable man
Come we to speak in this noble luck
The teachers are a flop—
Faithless and unjust to us.
Yet, the Superintendent says teachers are ambitious,
And the Superintendent is an honorable man.
They care not for the many troubles the pupils suffer,
Their heads with knowledge filling.
When student hath worried
The teachers have laughed.
Ambition should be made of sterner stuff.
You all did see that on these spring days
We anticipated sport, which by quizzes and exams was nearly vanished
Was this ambition?
Yet the Superintendent says teachers are ambitious,
And the Superintendent is an honorable man.
We speak not to disprove what the Superintendent spake
But here we are to speak what we do know
You all did love them once, but without cause.
Why now should we mourn for them?

Seniors.

Miss Yates: "Give me a good clear definition of the word after-thought."

Willie J.: "After-thought—is a tardy sense of prudence that prompts one to try to shut his mouth about the time he has put his foot in it."

for several good reasons. One of these is that the boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow, and we will want their friendship and loyalty for Marion's own home Newspaper—

The Marion Sentinel

Ray S.: "I have a new job as blacksmith in Edison's Drug Co."

Elmer N.: "What do you mean?"

Ray S.: "Just what I said. I shoo flies."

John was hard on trousers. One day while shopping his mother told him to buy cloth for a pair of trousers. John ordered a great deal more than it seemed necessary.

"Why do you get so much?" asked his friend who was with him.

"Oh," was the reply, "this is for reserved seats."

Soph: "Do you know Poe's Raven?"

Frosh: "No, what's the matter with him?"

Prof: "What is the formula for water?"

Frosh: "Hijklmno."

Prof: "Where did you get that idea?"

Frosh: "Why, yesterday you said it was H to O."

Mr. Deitrich: "Ray, do you know Lincoln's Gettysburg Address?"

Ray S.: "No, I thought he lived at the White House."

"Say, pop," inquired the young student, "was George Washington as honest as it says he was?"

"Yes, my son."

"Well, then, how is it they close all the banks on his birthday?"
